Jillian & Justin Morrisini

Songbirds Music, Art, & Dance Center opened in October of 2017 to create a place where artists of all levels and disciplines could come together to collaborate and grow. As professional musicians and performers, we wanted to create an environment focused on collaborative arts that could bridge the divide between music, art, & dance.

We pride ourselves on offering quality educational classes in a friendly and welcoming environment. Our instructors are not only award winning, professional artists, but friendly, down-to-earth individuals. We carefully curate all of our product and make sure everything we offer is affordable and of top-notch quality.

We are very proud to support over 25 local artists who instruct here at Songbirds. Every purchase you make with us, whether a class, instrument, or gift certificate, goes great lengths towards making sure our little studio survives this crazy time and enables us to continue supporting our staff and local community through the fine arts.

Whether we see you soon for a music lesson, dance class, art class, or some shopping, we look forward to making the world a little brighter together through the fine arts.

RECITALS RECITALS RECITALS

Answers to our most commonly asked Recital questions!

MUSIC RECITALS

Music recitals happen in the Fall, Winter, and Spring. We hold our recitals at a local church and all family and friends are welcome. There are no ticket costs, but we do charge a participation fee ($20) to cover the facility fees. Recitals are completely optional, but are a great way to develop stage presence, create a tangible goal, and get inspired by others.

DANCE RECITALS

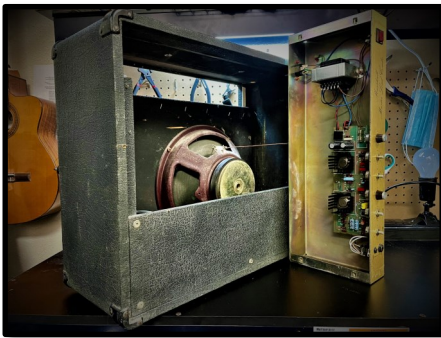

Dance recitals take place in the Winter at Oviedo on the Park's Amphitheatre and Spring at a local high school auditorium. Ballet for Tots, Tiny Tumbling, and Acro classes do not participate in the Winter recital. All classes participate in our Spring recital. Ballet for Tots will have an in-studio show and tell (no costume) in December and an in-studio recital (costumed) in May. The Winter recitals include participation and costume fees, but no ticketing fee. The Spring recital has an additional ticketing fee. Additionally, we offer in-house dance photography sessions in May, just before the recitals.
